DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I, claims 1-13, in the reply filed on December 16, 2004 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 14-23 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on December 16, 2004.

Claim Objections

3. Claims 2-5, 7-9 and 13 are objected to because of the following informalities: The claims are replete with misspelled words, e.g. claim 2, line 3, "manag ment" is missing the "e." Similar problems occur in several other claims. Appropriate correction is required of these claims, e.g. claim 9, line 9.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wilson, US 6,213,705.

Wilson discloses an inventory system for inventorying various kinds of inventory, e.g. tape cartridges 28, comprising camera means, e.g. 40, a remote management apparatus, e.g. motor 23, instruction receiver means, e.g. processor 62, proximity sensor 43, image-transmitter means, e.g. optical source 34, and a manipulator, e.g. gripper 22, and a database, e.g. Wilson does not disclose the term tele-inventory system at a shop. However, tele-inventory systems at a shop have been common knowledge in the inventory art. Official Notice of such is taken. To have provided a tele-inventory systems at a shop for Wilson would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art. The motivation for doing such would have been to implement the ready tracking location of the cartridges using common knowledge technology.
